Memoirs.

REV. VAN BUREN DAUGHETEE.

The Rev. Van Buren Daughetee was born in Clark county, Kentucky, October 11, 1833; converted at twelve; married to Miss Melvina C. Christopher, of Madison county, October 11, 1854, by his old grandfather, the Rev. George Roberts, M. D.; licensed to preach by the Rev. J. W. Fitch, D. D., about 1874, and died February 27, 1906. Of their two sons, George Roberts and Wiley Jackson, the latter died in young manhood, leaving a Christian family. The elder, George Roberts, a covenant-keeping son, was summoned from Texas by his father to come and minister to him in his last days, and receive into his strong arms the now dependent, precious old mother, so long the faithful heart companion of the old itinerant father, a superannuate at the end, about all his life a church member, a child of covenant grace and long an established Christian. He surely never preached for money, inherited but little, yet somehow he always had it, and for other people in need. Preaching was his business, a man of one work, yet by industry, economy and judgment he supplemented and so managed as to stand independent. His great soul love made him missionary in spirit, work and purse, and for Christ's sake this industrious, thrifty, well-poised business man, on his way to wealth, forsook all, and though poorly equipped educationally yielded himself up to the appointing powers of the church for supply work, ready for any place or people. To such hard places as were Frenchburg, Morehead, Campton, Jackson and others in the mountains—for years immediately following the war—was he generally appointed, and he always went, and he stayed, an evangel of peace, threading his way wisely in this war-riven region, among all classes and conditions. Two years he coupled with his pastoral and evangelistic ministry efficient service for the American Bible Society. With a strong will, a tender heart, a brave spirit, a marked common sense and a tough, unyielding physique, he seemed made for the mountains. He was small enough to ride horseback and strong enough to walk; he could get anywhere that other men went and meet any emergency that was common to itinerant life. But this pulpit servant and sufferer with Christ murmured not at his lot. Nor withal was he ever a Conference place-hunter or self-seeker. He was an humble hero, confident with David's sling, and aspiring to wear no other soldier's armor. Though uneducated—save as he gathered it by dint of methodical effort at odd hours—he won his way into the Conference and into a high place in the confidence and esteem of his brethren and held it through all these years. He was everything that he was on principle, a Christian gentleman. Clean in thought, purposes, word and ways, and scrupulously so, and no less in person and in his plain clothing—which last was always the cheapest article in all the make-up of this honest man—an honor to his Conference. I dwelt two years in the bosom of his secret life. His purity and prudence were a rebuke often to me with never a word. I write him one among the first of genuine characters known to me among the ministry of a long, extensive and varied acquaintance. His rank of appointments was low, but before God the highest. His mind was of the absorbing sort; he knew something practical and useful about everything in common life. His was "the simple life" unpretending. He was, too, a demonstration of covenant truth. "I will bless thee and make thee a blessing, and bless thy seed after thee." The God of covenant grace he felt was always about and back of him. Before his conscious existence was there covenant compact. The generations had hold upon Abraham's God, and following him the fires still burn upon the family altar. In his own plain, good, old-fashioned home, though the old priest be gone, the altar and the sacrifice and the fire all abide, and have and will with the generations to come. He ascended cherishing hope under assuring faith that his grandson who grew up at his feet would preach this gospel faith that dwelt in his grandfather and the generations back of him. Upon the shining shore where for weeks as transfigured he lingered, he preached from his dying bed on missions, adding to his regular annual contribution before leaving, once exclaiming, "Oh, that I could live a thousand years to preach Christ."

The pulpits and homes of other denominations were opened to him wherever he went. A community of all classes and creeds were deeply solicitous for his recovery during the weeks of battle with the last enemy. They thronged his home and a great congregation of sorrowing citizens attended the funeral of the man who had given himself for the people. And hard by the doorway of Dunaway's Chapel we put the tired and worn, old, itinerant body away to rest. The Presiding Elder, Rev. E. G. B. Mann, with this writer, passed some profitable hours with Brother Daughetee a week before he went home. He triumphantly greeted the Scriptures, songs, prayers and questions, too feeble to stand, but strong enough to shout. He claimed to have long been consciously sanctified, but always cautious about his professions in these times of discord, and this experience served him gloriously in death, saying if I lived it I knew the people would find it out. Days of depression and disappointment settled upon him, however, after notified he must die; he felt no condemnation, but instead perfect love to God and to all mankind, but no thrill of joy and triumph now when most needed and so long expected in the last conflict. He had allowed the enemy to lead him to expect to shout a victor because of his long and faithful service, but a season of deep self-examination and prayer soon settled all, for the Comforter had come and glory was upon the face of the sun after storm and cloud. Then he was radiant, and in peace to the end. The love of this old, itinerant pair in life was a charm to behold; she had been a full and ready partner in all his trials, but "the powers of the world to come were now in death upon him, and he sweetly committed wife and all to God.

His ministerial success and business success and social success were not because he was uneducated, but in spite of it. Had he been educated and kept as humble and reliant upon God, he would have still stood ready for any place or people and achieved far greater victories anywhere. In the final count of souls and all the trophies from the earth's field gathered by the soldiers of the Cross who shall stand before the King, Van Buren Daughetee will hear the plaudit, "Come up higher." Yes, where integrity of character shall determine all spheres in eternity. His fidelity to the Sabbath, to temperance, to his church in creed and polity, to the laws of the land, its courts and officers, to the schools, public and denominational, to the rights of citizenship, to the sacredness of the ballot he could touch business at every point, every day in the week with every class of men, and they would all respect his religion on Sunday in the pulpit. "Though dead he yet speaketh." These appropriate words made the text for his funeral sermon preached by this writer, who loved his association, in his pure and typical ministerial home especially; who needed and profited by his wise counsel; who sorrowfully parted from him and sadly feels his loss and prayerfully cherishes a deep loving hope to meet this genuine, plain, old saint some where at last and not afraid to settle down eternally in any world or sphere where simple-hearted, honest, old Van Buren Daughette has gone.

REV. D. B. COOPER.

Rev. D. B. Cooper, one of the most useful and highly esteemed members of the Kentucky Conference, died at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. H. H. Lowry, at Nicholasville, March 10, 1906. Brother Cooper was a native of Mason county, and was in his seventy-second year. He was reared in a Christian home, was licensed to preach at the age of nineteen, and was in the ministry fifty-three years. He was admitted on trial into the Kentucky Conference in 1853. After serving for four years, he was transferred to the Missouri Conference where he did seven years' faithful work. Returning to his native State in 1864, he engaged in teaching one year, and was re-admitted into the Kentucky Conference in 1865. After his return, his pastorates were: Flemingsburg, Mt. Sterling, Shelbyville, Simpsonville, Taylorsville, Millersburg, Nicholasville, Cynthiana, New Castle, Bloomfield, Burgin and Bethel. Six of these he filled for four years each. In 1901, his health having become feeble, he took a superannuated relation; but being partially restored, he was ever ready for the Master's work, and was an efficient help to the pastor both in public and in private. Eighteen months since, a change of climate having been recommended for his noble, Christian wife, he went with her and their daughter to Florida. For the past six months, having been a great sufferer himself, they gratified his request to bring him home to die. The journey was ended none too soon. In thirty-six hours, having greeted his loved ones, engaged with them in prayer, and having looked into the faces of many friends, he quietly fell asleep.

His body was borne by its officers to the church. The house was filled to its utmost capacity, and the funeral was conducted by the writer, assisted by Revs. F. W. Noland, E. G. B. Mann, U. G. Foote and E. W. McKorkle.

As a preacher Brother Cooper was pre-eminently scriptural. He was not much given to speculation, but largely proclaimed fundamental and generally accepted truth. He was not a controversialist; he knew the doctrines of his Church, held tenaciously to them, and was able to defend them, but the staple of his preaching was salvation from sin and a holy life. His preaching was clear. No one ever had any difficulty in understanding what he meant. It was courageous. He hewed to the line, fearlessly denouncing sin, and demanded consecration. It was earnest; his soul was thrown into it, and he had much of the spirit of Him who said: "The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up." It was convincing. He had such a perfect assurance of the truth he preached, such implicit confidence in its power, such conviction of its being the antidote to all the ills of life, that it was difficult to resist him. It was with authority; he felt that he was an ambassador from the court of heaven, a messenger from God with a proclamation of pardon to a condemned world.

As a man, his life was characterized by the strictest integrity. He had scant patience with looseness in business, neglect of obligation, or disregard of truth. He hated shams in the social, civil, commercial or religious life. He was a manly man. He knew where he stood, and the people knew where he stood. With due respect for the opinions of others, he had the courage of his own convictions. Above all, he was a Christian man. Christ dominated his being. Truly he could say: "For me to live is Christ." He lived by Christ, in Christ, for Christ, and now he has gone to live with Christ.

MRS. EFFIE GODBEY HILL. AN APPRECIATION AND LIFE SKETCH.

She was a daughter of Rev. W. B. Godbey.

Life's bright morning opened its beautiful gates to her thirty-two years ago. She was dedicated to God in infancy according to Methodism and raised in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

She took a careful view of the world, listened to a part of its pleadings and turned away with fear and made "Moses' choice" "Mary's part," and while the dew of youth was yet falling started for that country called heaven.

Her educational and religious advantages were harmonious. Her mind went out after literature, her heart was stayed on God. She was not educated from, but to herself, a fine illustration of Christian education. She was quiet, bashful and unpretending in general, but considerate, tacitful, earnest and conscientious in particular.

Among the finishing touches of her school period her heart turned to love for its aggressive, protective and defensive benefits. Rev. F. M. Hill, of the same institution of learning, came into her life, and, offering her his heart and hand, was accepted and crowned with man's greatest honor, the love of a true, womanly woman.

I found myself among others interested in their homemaking. The absence of extra expense, was apparent, the presence of comfort and substantials marked. They were well mated, the government was vested in two heads, neither was master nor mistress; the will of one was the pleasure of the other. To me their home was a place I love to think of. The kind of place you like to find where worn and weary you can go in and rest awhile. No gush at the door, but a look of welcome that spread all over you and made you feel like brushing your clothes and polishing your shoes to be worthy to make a call, and when you went away felt you had been in the home of a Christian man and a godly woman, a place where God's honor dwelleth.

But it is a fact we all know now, death was not far away with plans fixed to wreck it. He came into this family bower seven years ago and laid his cold hand on a baby boy, and broke the first link in the family chain, and left behind a pall of gloom and painful silence. Four years ago he came again and took into his cold embrace a baby boy, and laid him in the grave, and thickened the cloud of sorrow, and multiplied the anguish of a voice hushed forever.

After these sad experiences, ten years of married life, last Sunday evening, before the joy bells of the heart had ceased ringing out the welcome to a new born son, death rushed in and took position to strike the wife and mother, the most fatal blow of all, wreck the home, pull down its prospects and scatter the family. It was a scene for angels when she said: "Husband, I am going to leave you; stay by me until I take my departure." Then she looked out into the beyond and inquired: "What ship is that that has come in? I hear the music—such beautiful music."

She thanked her doctors for their untiring faithfulness in their efforts to cure her, and expressed an interest in their salvation.

She said, after inquiring as to whether her mother and brother had arrived: "Tell them I am so sorry they did not get to me," and "Tell father if he ever returns, I wanted to see him again." She looked up, and raised her hands and said: "The end is near; the books are about closed." She had her husband and children (Emma and John) to come to her bedside, and said to her husband: "Adjust matters the best you can, and take the children to mother, if it suits." She had the six-day-old babe placed in his father's arms, and kissed husband and little ones good-bye. When she asked, "What ship is that?" etc., her husband replied: "It must be the old ship of Zion," and tried to quote, "Lo, I am with you always." etc., and he broke down, and she finished the passage with great emphasis upon "always." Then she sang, "Come along, come along, and let us all go home," etc., and while the hearts of friends swelled with grief and eyes overflowed with tears, she went peacefully on board to join the angel sailors who never knew a grief, and rejoicing passengers, who know no more tears or sorrow.

When the old ship of Zion shall make her last trip
I want to be there, I do;
With heads all uncovered to greet the old ship,
I want to be there. Don't you?

MRS. CORA LINDSAY HILL.

Mrs. Cora Lindsay Hill, wife of Rev. Felix R. Hill, Jr., was born in Kankakee, Ill., May 23d, 1870; married in St. Louis by the Rev. B. M. Messick, D. D. Taken with a fatal illness April 19th, 1906. Died in the hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio, July 14th, 1906.

After a simple service at her home in Covington, Ky., conducted by Dr. B. M. Messick, Rev. J. S. Sims and W. O. Sadler, her body was laid to rest in the beautiful Highland Cemetery to await the resurrection of the just.

Sister Hill sought only to do her Lord's will in such ministries as fell to her lot. Patient in all her long and painful suffering, her end was triumphant and peaceful. A daughter and husband mourn her not as one dead, but as one only gone on before.

MRS. MARY PRICE TAYLOR.

Sister Taylor was born in Vicksburg, Miss., March 21, 1842, during the sojourn of her parents there for the sake of the father's health. She died in Nicholasville, Ky., September 11, 1906, being in her sixty-fifth year.

It was in Jessamine county that she grew to womanhood and married, passed the best years of her useful life, and was laid to rest, looking for the general resurrection in the last day.

Her mother, Mrs. Cassandra Price, of blessed memory, was a wise and consecrated woman, who failed not in the most important work of the Christian home, the training of her children for God and heaven. Her care and prayer were rewarded in the conversion and reception into Christ's church of the daughter at the early age of seven years. Her education was conducted first in the Jessamine Female Institute, and later at Science Hill, Shelbyville, Ky.

As pastor of the household in 1871, I was honored in the friendship of both mother and daughter, and often witnessed the thoughtful filial affection of the young wife for her aged and widowed parent. It was always a cheering experience to visit their home. Their coming to mine has been a sweet memory these many years.

On June 30, 1869, Miss Mary became a co-partner for life of Dr. W. F. Taylor, then the popular pastor at Paris. In happy wedlock for over thirty-seven years they shared the Methodist itinerant's joys and sorrows. The union was as fortunate for the church as it was for themselves. Her disposition well suited her husband and his calling. She was hopeful and quite contented. Not exempt from human ills and trials, she would never complain or despond. Her domestic tastes and qualities made an orderly and restful home for relatives and friends. She had a fine business head and knew well how to manage financial and household matters. This soundness of judgment was also evinced in many a decision and course of conduct that brought her husband honor and success. The wisest of men has epitomized the experience of Dr. Taylor in that saying: "The heart of the husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoils." To these rare and admirable natural traits were added the simple and steadfast faith of God's child. This was often manifest in the most trying hours of her earthly life, as, for instance, when awaiting annually the appointment of her home and field of labor. These seasons of uncertainty brought her no uneasiness and evoked no expression of fear or reluctance. She schemed for no place or honor, courted no man's influence, but calmly awaited the announcement that would continue or change her home and friends and local affairs. Just before she was called to enter into rest she declared to him who had long been her comrade in the strife: "If you were to lay before me the whole list of appointments, I would not make a choice." How perfect must have been her trust in the All-Controlling Hand! It may be that right here is the secret of the long list of happy pastorates that fell to her lot throughout the years of her wedded life—not one of them having proven a misfit or a disappointment.

In the church's work she had a full share, and was an exemplary pastor's wife. The worst weather did not keep her from the service. The Sunday school and League sessions, the prayer and teachers' meetings, the missionary societies and social gatherings found her present and in many cases leading, in all serving the Lord. As prudent in speech as she was well versed in Scripture, many gained wisdom by her silence whilst she imparted learning with her tongue. She treated kindly those she could not admire, and said nothing about such as she may not have thought well of. In pastoral cares and courtesies she was indeed a "helpmeet." She multiplied many times her husband's friends, and never disparaged his efforts. The poor of the parish were very warmly attached to her; her consent was never wanting to her husband's frequent and ample contributions to church and charity and school.

Sister Taylor's death was unlooked for, and in its suddenness very shocking, indeed. It was, no less, the appointment of Him "who doeth all things well." Without warning, and with but little pain, she was released upon the eve of her farewell to her Nicholasville friends. Rev. Mr. Mann, who spoke at her funeral, made happy reference to the certainty and the glory of this divine appointment to a home and rest above in contrast with the uncertainty and difficulty involved in the announcement of the one so soon to have been made in the Conference room. The departure for the house not made with hands in the city "that hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God, was verily a fate far better" than the Bishop's assignment to some district parsonage and ministerial work.

The crowded audience and floral offerings, the tribute of tears and testimonies from a church and community in sympathy—all these bear witness to a well-spent life, to a good woman gone! May the grace of God enable all her loved ones to feel: 'Tis well, 'tis well!

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

Your Committee on Bible Cause submits the following report:

We deem it unnecessary to give you a lengthy report, but we would not forget to stress the importance of this claim upon you because the American Bible Society continues to be one of the greatest factors in carrying out the purpose of God in spreading the gospel, both in Christian and heathen lands.

The vast increase of Missionaries and the consequent increase of converts in the foreign field make an unprecedented demand upon the society for more copies of the Bible.

The Board needs money and it depends almost entirely upon the collections from the great denominations of America for its funds. We want to do our part to help supply this great demand for the word of God, so we recommend to the Conference the same appropriation as last year, which is $1,000, and request that the collections for this claim be taken not later than December 15, 1906.

T. W. BARKER, Chairman,
C. A. BROMLEY, Secretary.

BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

We feel that we can not commend too highly the literature and periodicals being issued by our publishing house at the present time. In the Quarterly Review, the Christian Advocate, the Epworth Era, Go Forward and the various Sunday school publications, we have a denominational literature which is the equal of any published, and we desire to commend all these to our people as worthy of their hearty appreciation and support. We would make special mention of the Christian Advocate and Go Forward, and the special effort now being made to increase their circulation. We are gratified to note the awakening of interest in the Advocate, our connectional organ, so manifest during the present Conference session, more than 500 subscriptions having been pledged by the presiding elders and pastors. For the Go Forward we covet a place in each home within the bounds of our Conference. A wide-a-woke, up-to-date, missionary magazine, published at the nominal price of 25 cents a year. No pastor can afford to be without it, and its general circulation among our people will be productive of large and beneficial results.

Your committee desires to direct special attention to our new hymn book—The Methodist Hymnal. That it meets a long-felt need none will question, and we trust the day is not far distant when it will be used in every charge in our Conference. We urge our pastors to put forth effort to get it into general use in the church and home. And, too, we would urge the necessity of having placed in each home within our bounds a copy of the Discipline, just issued. This, we think, is a matter which merits our attention.

As to the Central Methodist, our Conference organ, we give it our cordial endorsement. A wholesome, attractive, well-edited paper, it deserves the hearty support and patronage of our pastors and people. We recommend the continuance of its official relation as our Conference organ.

FELIX R. HILL, JR., Chairman.

To the Committee.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The Board of Education of the Kentucky Annual Conference M. E. Church, South, would report that the college did well the last scholastic year considering the temporary quarters in which the work had to be done.

We congratulate the Conference and the college on the fact that the enrollment of students for the opening of the present year is the best in the history of the institution. We desire to call attention to the excellent work done by the retiring President, Dr. J. L. Weber. The endowment fund under his administration has been increased from something over forty thousand to nearly sixty thousand dollars. We make mention also of his personal influence in the accomplishment of the noble achievement of the Commercial Club and citizens of Clark county. We count ourselves fortunate in having secured Prof. H. K. Taylor, A. M., of Louisville, as President of the Institution to succeed Dr. Weber. Prof. Taylor is an alumnus of the Institution; has become eminent as a successful educator, and is widely and favorably known throughout the Commonwealth as an active worker in temperance and other Christian activity.

The Board recommends that a vote of thanks be offered by the Conference to the Commercial Club and citizens of Clark county for turning over to the Conference a new college building far superior to the old one at a cost to them given in the following report of the Building Committee:

Winchester, Ky., Aug. 29, 1906.

To the Board of Education of Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South:

Your Building Committee for the erection of the new college building reports as follows: The Committee secured plans and specifications from Anderson & Faig, Lexington, with supervision of the work, for which was paid $2,000.00. The total of all building contracts was $37,958.12. Extras ordered afterward amounted to $4,550.83. This included the foundation. Total of building, $44,508.95. Besides, there was put into the new building material from the old one, and labor, which we estimate at $10,000.00. Of the amount referred to above ($44,508.95) the Board of Education paid $20,000.00, and the Clark County Commercial Club $24,508.95. We expended also by order of the Board, for concrete walk, driveway, drainage and cess-pool, and extra wiring, $944.07. Every claim and contract has been paid, and we present the building free from debt. This report does not include cost of equipment, which was made by other committees appointed by the Board. We accompany herewith all vouchers and papers to verify and explain the report in detail.

————— Chairman,

————— Secretary.

This gives us a college building worth, at a conservative estimate, $60,737.99. When we include the cost of equipment, which was done at a cost, according to the Treasurer's report, of $6,229.04. This great achievement should be a challenge to our church membership for loyalty and support. Under the advice of the college president and faculty the Board decided to separate the collegiate and preparatory departments, and to erect a separate building for the latter. The building is nearing completion, and will cost when completed about $3,600.00. The present enrollment of that department vindicates the wisdom of the action. And this department under its new conditions should commend itself not only to the Conference, but also to the people of Winchester and Clark county.

Attention is called to the superior scientific equipment which will afford special advantages to the students. In this connection we mention with gratitude and appreciation the fine collection of geological specimens donated to the college by Dr. J. W. Fitch. Also his large and valuable library of 750 volumes which he has placed in the college.

These will add to the already eminent service Dr. Fitch has rendered to the church by his ministry. The offer of Mr. Carnegie to give $15,000.00 for a college library on condition that the church raise a like amount is still open, and should be met by the Conference.

The Board has voted to attempt to raise a fund of $50,000.00, to be used for the education of preacher's sons and young men preparing for the ministry. A gift of $200.00 by Mrs. Nute, of Flemingsburg, Ky., has already been received for this fund. And the estate of Bro. John N. Ison, deceased, of Stanford, Ky., is in process of settlement, and promises to yield $1,400.

We rejoice in the prosperity and widening influence of Vanderbilt University. Paine and Lane Institute are doing excellent work in their respective fields, and we commend them to the liberality of our people.  EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD.

Your Epworth League Board begs leave to submit the following report:

We are pleased to have the General Secretary, Dr. H. M. DuBose, present with us at this Conference, and rejoice with him in the success which attends the Epworth League movement.

Having received and carefully considered the report of the General Secretary, we record our appreciation of his optimism: "The growth of the League," especially "its advance in the matter of spiritual activity and helpfulness," its numerical increase in chapters and membership, its better financial basis; the increased circulation of the Era and any other success attained.

The Anniversary held Friday afternoon of this Conference session was rendered especially edifying and helpful by the fine address of Dr. DuBose. We hope the brethren will follow all of his suggestions, but especially "The Boys' League," which we believe will be a great aid in holding our boys.

Whereas, Lack of interest and activity in the work of the Epworth League abounds among the pastors of the Kentucky Conference; be it Resolved, 1. That as it is incumbent upon preachers in charge to organize an Epworth League in every Methodist congregation, that, each Presiding Elder be urged to inquire particularly why this is not done, or, if attempted without success, why the effort is not continued, and that the answer be spread upon the District Conference Records.

2. That each Presiding Elder see that he has a District Organization.

The Quadrennium which has just closed has been the greatest in the history of the missionary operations of our church. The growth in the collections in the church at home has been a little more than $25,000 per year. The sum total for this fiscal year, including the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, is $623,755. The total for the Quadrennium being $1,659,941. The increase in the membership of the church in the foreign field is encouraging, being in the last year 1,973, or 12.7 per cent. The advance in the collections on assessments for the fiscal year just closed is $37,802. Seventeen Annual Conferences, 121 districts and 3,227 pastoral charges paid their assessments in full.

We note progress in all our six mission fields—China, Korea, Japan, Mexico, Brazil and Cuba. We have in these fields, including those of the Woman's Board, 250 missionaries, 104 native traveling preachers, 117 local preachers, 17,633 members, with property valued at $1,428,464. The great awakening in China, carrying with it a thirst for light and knowledge, throws a great responsibility upon the home church to furnish them the gospel and schools for the education of their children. The revival fires continue to burn in Korea. The Rev. J. R. Moose in his last communication says they are coming in by tens and by hundreds.

The workers are planning largely for the conquest of this field in the establishment of a union publishing house to supply the demand for Christian literature. We look with prayerful interest to this field in behalf of Bro. W. G. Cram and wife. With the influx of light, Japan is becoming dissatisfied with the old forms of religion. It has been said of Japan as "a country in search of a religion." The time is at hand for the church to plant the Christian religion in the empire, and erect a standard of morals that will stand the test of the changes to come. The most significant event is the provision for an independent native church, to be called the Methodist Episcopal Church of Japan. With the great home churches back of this movement the new church will play an important part in the Christianization of the empire. In the large territory of Brazil the church is alive to the interests of the kingdom of God. When McKennedy landed in Rio de Janeiro in 1881 the membership numbered only 60, now, including local preachers, the membership is 5,000. These contributed $3.37 per member. The year closes in Mexico with 6,702 members, an increase of 422. A marked advance has been made in Cuba, now numbering 1,949, an increase of 473. These have contributed $4.36 per member. There are 27 organized churches. We are glad to have with us Bro. C. H. Green. of the Cuban Mission. In our home field we note progress in the growth of the churches, and in the projection of new missions, and the erection of new churches and the better equipment of the old ones.

We heartily endorse the work of the General Conference in creating the Department of Home Missions, and we are glad to have with us the new General Secretary, Dr. J. R. Nelson.

We recommend the appointment of Rev. F. M. Hill as Conference Missionary Evangelist, and commend him to the pastors, churches and homes of our people. The training school at Nashville, owned and controlled by the parent Board of Missions, meets a much-felt want in the better equipment of our workers. We urge all who can, both of our young men and women, to avail themselves of this opportunity to qualify for God's work.

We urge all our pastors to preach on the subject of Missions and take the collections early in the year. We urge that all be diligent in the circulation of missionary literature, especially the "Go Forward."

Our Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies have both made progress. We pledge them our support and co-operation. We recommend the appointment of Rev. E. C. Savage as Conference Missionary Secretary.

L. ROBINSON, Ch'n.

E. C. SAVAGE, Sec'y.

WOMAN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY KENTUCKY CONFERENCE.

As an organization, the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has a record very gratifying. A review of the Quadrennium, as well as of the year just closed, may not be uninteresting. While the membership has not made the increase hoped for, the collections for the four years just ended are far in advance of any Quadrennium since our organization, being a total of $494,871.69. Our missionary force numbers 69, 15 of the number having been sent out during this Quadrennium. Nine young ladies have been sent out—to Korea, Brazil and China—from the Board Meeting in May. Since our organization, twenty-eight years ago, we have collected and disbursed $2,046,913.00. Appropriations made for the present year, $154,375. We have 34 Conference societies, 269 districts, 2,348 adult auxiliaries, 1,083 Juvenile Societies, 338 Golden Link Societies, making a total of 3,749 societies. Membership of the three societies, 82,919. The society has not succeeded in purchasing or in building in all its stations, but much has been done in Brazil as well as in China. On the Mexican border the buildings destroyed by storm a year ago have been repaired or rebuilt. Wonderful conversions have marked many of our mission stations during the last year, and the accounts at many places read like Pentecost. Intelligent workers multiply in the home land, and the spiritual life of our constituency occupies a higher plane. The Kentucky Conference, while falling below some of the larger Conferences, in numbers and figures, has made a creditable advance along financial lines, our collections last year amounting to $5,460.52. We are grieved to say that we have not enlisted the women of the Conference as we should, and we plead with our brethren in the ministry to co-operate with us this year as never before, and help us to have a live, working society in every charge. We can do this with much prayer and concentrated effort. The needs are so great, our workers are in the field, so overburdened, the people in so many fields pleading with outstretched hands for the gospel, they turn to you and to me for help.

Shall we withhold it? Verily not. The great future, with its limitless opportunity, is before us, and we will gladly hasten the day when all shall know, from the least, even unto the greatest.

HELEN M. FORSYTH,
Cor. Sec'y Kentucky Conference.

ORPHAN'S HOME.

Your Committee report as follows:

The statement of Bro. H. Wirgman, President of the Board of Managers, presents these facts: Sept. 1, 1905, there were 57 children (24 boys and 33 girls) in the institution. One boy was received during the year. Nine girls and five boys were placed out during the year. Fifteen girls and 29 boys remain in the Home. The health of the inmates of the Home has been exceptionably good during the year. All the children attend school. The moral and religious training of the children receives careful attention.

Considerable interior improvements have been made in the buildings. The affairs of the institution are in the best condition in many years.

The Woman's Board gives efficient and highly valued assistance in managing the Home.

We recommend the appointment of E. S. Boswell, as agent, and Miss Laura Y. Nadal as Matron in place of Mrs. Pendry, who resigned.

He presents the following statement of assets and liabilities:

Home property, 906 Fifth street. . . . .	$34,500 00
Furniture in the Home. . . . .	2,000 00
Property, 317 West Market street . . . . .	22,573 24
Property, 10th street. . . . .	6,700 00
Property, York street. . . . .	350 00
Property, Washington street. . . . .	1,500 00
Property, Washington street, exchanged for property 27th and Elliott Avenue. . . . .	1,462 00
Bills receivable. . . . .	9,100 50
Cash endowment in Treasurer's hands. . . . .	290 51
Cash expense in Treasurer's hands. . . . .	270 51
Cash expense in Matron's hands. . . . .	2 59
Total assets. . . . .	$78,749 35

Liabilities, none.

The agent's report is exceedingly encouraging. From it we learn that six beds have been endowed during the year at the cost of $12.50 each. Donations have been sent in to the number of 120 boxes and barrels. The plan adopted by this Conference four years ago of giving to the Home the collections in Sunday-schools on the fifth Sundays has produced very gratifying results. The number of schools contributing and the amounts contributed, as well as the average per school, have increased each year. This year 1,083 schools paid $2,420.44. We urge all the Sunday-schools to follow the Conference plan.

The Conference organ has given the agent free access to its columns, for which we are grateful. The agent has raised during the year the following amounts:

In cash. . . . .	$4,687 40
In good, unpaid subscriptions . . . . .	800 00
120 box donations . . . . .	800 00
Total. . . . .	$6,087 40

This is a small increase over last year's collections. It ought to be our great pleasure to give all possible assistance to the agent of the Home, for this is a mark of "pure and undefiled religion."

C. P. PILOW, Sec'y.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE REPRESENTATION.

We, your Committee appointed to take under consideration the plan by which this Conference has, in the past, provided lay representatives for its District Conferences, beg leave to report as follows:

1. Paragraph 69, Answer 2, of the Discipline says: "The District Conference shall be composed of all the preachers in the district, traveling and local, including superannuated preachers (whether resident without or within the limits of the Annual Conferences to which they belong), and of laymen, the number of whom, and their mode of appointment each Annual Conference may determine for itself."

2. Many years ago this Annual Conference determined that the laymen of its District Conference should consist of one Delegate from each Quarterly Conference and one from each Church Conference in the district. This plan gives the pastoral charges very unequal representation, as by it our strongest stations have but two Delegates, while some of our weakest circuits and missions have five or six.

3. We recommend that hereafter the lay membership of our District Conferences consist:

(1.) Of the Recording Stewards of the various pastoral charges; and,
(2.) Of one Delegate (to be elected by the Quarterly Conference from among the members of the station, circuit or mission), for every two hundred members of the charge; provided, That when there shall be in any charge a fraction of one-half the members fixed for the ratio of representation, such charge shall be entitled to an additional delegate for such fraction: And provided further, That no charge shall be denied one Delegate beside the Record Steward of that charge.

Respectfully submitted,

W. E. ARNOLD,
C. F. ONEY,
A. REDD,
W. W. BALL,
M. L. HARRIS..

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

Whereas, God has commanded "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy;" and whereas, it is with great humiliation and grief we must confess the tendency not only of the worldly, but also those who profess the name of Christ, to desecrate the day; and whereas, we recognize that the Sabbath is the Savior of our Nation and State, physically, mentally and spiritually; be it

Resolved, 1. That we implore every adherent of Southern Methodism to more sacredly observe the day that God has set apart for meditation and worship by refraining from all secular pursuits.

2. That we deprecate the prevalent use of the Sunday newspapers, and urge our people to abstain from the use of them.

3. That we admonish our people to resist the temptation of taking advantage of the reduced rates offered by railroads and other public conveyances on Sunday excursions, which are a menace to the sacred day, keeping thousands from the house of God, yea, and from salvation.

4. That we call attention to the fact that it is custom at many religious camp meetings to have on sale inside the grounds on the Sabbath day candy, tobacco, soft drinks and other things not necessities, thereby setting a wrong example before the world; and further, that we set ourselves on record as being decidedly opposed to such a practice.

5. That we deplore the growing tendency of making the Sabbath a day of social visits and request our people to refrain from such.

6. That we heartily endorse and express our appreciation of the efforts made toward the enforcement of the laws pertaining to Sabbath observance by our Chief Executive, Mayors of Municipalities and other executive officers, and we respectfully exhort our people to sustain all officers who endeavor to enforce Sunday laws.

7. We endorse and pledge our hearty support to the Sunday League of America in all its persistent efforts to restore the Sabbath to its proper and exalted position.

8. That we believe it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath day.

9. That the Pastors in our Conference be urged to present these resolutions to their several charges from the pulpit, and by precept and example to secure their compliance to them.

J. D. REDD, Ch'n.

DAVID DAVIES, Sec'y.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOARD.

Your Sunday-school Board reports as follows:

It is with delight we note the increase in the number of Sunday-schools, the number of officers and teachers and the number of pupils as given in the report of our Sunday-school Editor.

We rejoice in the advance in the circulation of our Sunday-school literature, and heartily recommend its use in all our schools. We believe that is equal to any that can be had in any church and it certainly is better than any other for our schools.

All needy schools that have made application for aid to our board have been given the literature and song books for which they have asked.

Resolved, 1. That the Sunday-school Board furnish all our schools with programs for Children's Day, and pay for them out of the collections taken on that day.

Resolved, 2. That Men's Classes on the Baracca plan be organized wherever practicable.

Resolved, 3. That the Home Department and Cradle Roll be used wherever needed.

Resolved, 4. That we most heartily recommend the Bible Teacher's Study Circle to all our teachers as a means of better equipping them for their responsible work.

Resolved, 5. That our schools encourage the new movement looking to the establishment of a Chair of Sunday-schools and Religious Pedagogy in connection with the Biblical Department of Vanderbilt University.

Resolved, 6. That we recommend that the new Sunday-school Board of our Conference arrange for a Teacher's Rally to be held some time during the year at some central point, and suggest that they get Prof. H. M. Hamill to conduct the same.

Our sincere thanks are tendered all the brethren who have given their assistance to us during our four years existence as your Sunday-school Board. We tender special thanks to Prof. H. M. Hamill and Dr. Chappell for their excellent addresses at our Anniversary on Thursday afternoon.

The new Sunday-school Board shall have our sympathy and prayers that God may bless them in their labors of love and that during their administration many new schools may be organized, and that thousands of children may be brought to a saving knowledge of God and of His Christ through the instrumentality of mission schools.

W. F. WYATT, Sec'y.

F. M. HILL, Ch'n.

TEMPERANCE.

---

From its inception to its culmination the liquor interest is death dealing and damning.

One of its most disastrous channels through which vice flows most violently is the licensed saloon.

All legislation should be against it, with the ultimate aim not of control but destruction.

For the present we must take what we can get, and if we can't get it as fast as we want it, receive it as we can and always lend our preaching and practice to make it as hard to do wrong and as easy to do right as is possible.

No era in Kentucky has had a more hotly contested battle than that being fought now between the liquor and temperance people of this State. We have never had so powerful weapons in our hands with which to fight the arch fiend, as the universal church and sober citizens league, independent of party, or party issue in the form of the Anti-Saloon League; therefore be it Resolved, 1. We recommend the splendid work said league has aided in doing during our recent General Assembly, together with the open and fearless stand our Chief Executive, State Officers, Senators and Representatives took with the large noble body of Temperance people with money, men and time to place on our Statute Books the County Unit Bill.

2. We also would gladly commend the Kentucky Issue as the anti-saloon organ worthy a place in all our homes, as it gives reliable temperance news, independent of politics, nowhere else found in our State.

We respectfully request our preachers and people to support and encourage its editors and agents whenever possible. Also Liquor Laws by Dr. G. W. Young is recommended to all.

3. We note with gratification the splendid victories being won for Local Option under the County Unit Bill, and continue the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon League and invite its representatives to our pulpits.

4. We realize law is only real as it is judicially interpreted. Now that one phase of the "Unit Bill" has been attacked, and an appeal is to be taken to the circuit court, we gladly urge our people to heed the call of President M. B. Adams and Superintendent G. W. Young to send in funds to make this legal fight.

5. We heartily commend the official acts of State, city and other officials in their efforts at Sunday closing, particularly against the selling of liquor.

6. We recommend the appointment of Rev. H. G. Turner and Arthur O'Rear as Delegates to the National Anti-Saloon League, of America, to be held at St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19 and 22, and George W. Bain, G. B. Winslow, Revs. J. R. Deering, W. E. Arnold and J. D. Redd as Trustees of said League in Kentucky.

7. We heartily commend that men who can be depended upon to make and enforce laws regardless of party or political issues be sustained by the voters of our various societies.

8. We again say we are in favor of the use of unfermented wine in the sacrament.

9. We still feel that the use of tobacco is a bad example to the young and tends to encourage the very pernicious cigarette habit and therefore ask our preachers to abstain from the use of it.

10. We recommend the appointment of Rev. Geo. W. Young as Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Kentucky.

GEO. FROH, President.

W. H. BARKSDALE, Sec'y.
